THIRTY SEATTLE BRAVES INVADE GLENDALE TO END THEIR SPRING TRAINING

Expect Record Crowd of Local Fans to Turn Out Tomorrow Afternoon to See Northern Tribe Contest Frank Kerwin's Pets

By AL DIX
Of The Evening News Staff.

Whoop-ee! Thirty braves, including real and hopeful, of the tribe of Seattle, led by that blood-thirsty chieftain, Hit-it-on-the-Nose, or "Red" Killifer, as he is known to the palefaces, invaded Glendale this morning, and after practicing their war-like maneuvers this afternoon, will endeavor to scalp Frank Kerwin's White Sox at the San Fernando road battlefield tomorrow. The battle cry will be sounded at 2:30 o'clock. Although Chief Killifer had been out to look over the battlefield, and pronounced it a wonderful place to slay innocent babes like those on the White Sox payroll, his tribesmen had been battling among themselves at Washington Park for the honor of participating in the massacre. To many of them it was their first glimpse of what will prove to be their stepping off place to the happy hunting ground in the minors, or the scene of their heroic feats in combat that will win for them much credit from the supreme war chief and incidentally a regular monthly slice of the Lockhard money, throughout the long campaign to follow.

Brother Wade is satisfied with his charges. One glance at him will convince the most skeptical of that. Local fans are wise to Wade. He piloted several ball clubs in these parts before departing for the north. As a matter of fact, he confided this morning in the dugout, that if his pitchers hold up as they should, Seattle will be right in the running.

Many of the Los Angeles fans followed the Indians out here to get a look at them before the opening of the regular Coast league season, when they play the Angels at Washington Park next Tuesday.

Saturday's Lineup
And it's no secret that with pitching Killifer has got a ball club. He will start, with the figures as his regular line-up for

DEMAND DAMAGES FOR BANDIT RAID
Foreign Legations Present Claims Against China In Train Holdup

PEKING, April 4.—Just eleven months after the famous Linchong bandit holdup of the Shanghai-Peking express, the foreign legations today presented claims for personal and property losses of the foreign legations to the Chinese government.

The claims are reported to total $350,000 (Mexican) which is in addition to the per diem compensation claimed by captives of the bandits. The American claim is largest because sixteen Americans were among those captured. Miss Lucy Aldrich, wealthy American, was loth to make any claim, but was advised to do so as a matter of policy.

Senate Committee To Probe Records Of Daugherty Bank
WASHINGTON, April 4.—The Senate investigation of former Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty took a new turn today when it announced that the Wheeler-Brookhart committee would hold sessions at Washington Courthouse, Ohio, to examine records of the Midland National bank there.

The visit to Ohio was decided upon as a result of the refusal of M. S. Daugherty, brother of the former attorney-general, to send the records to Washington.

Coolidge Assured Of Nomination on First Vote, Claim

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The nomination of Calvin Coolidge at the Republican national convention in Cleveland will be signed, sealed and all but delivered by April 22—eighteen days from today. This confident assertion was made here today by the president's campaign managers after a careful tabulation of results to date, and results expected between now and the zero date set, April 22.

William M. Butler, director of the Coolidge campaign, told the president this morning that he has a total of 385 delegates thus far pledged or instructed for him, and that by the 22nd, this total will be increased to 620 delegates—or 65 more than the necessary majority of 555.

What she knows, however, she declined to discuss except to declare it "was not much."

The now Mrs. Gorman is not talking for publication these days. Since her marriage she has been living a quiet life away from public attention, dividing her time between her secluded home in Beverly Hills and a ranch near Van Nuys, about twenty-five miles from Los Angeles.

SUICIDE OF PAYMASTER RUMORED

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—Rumors that the body of Lieutenant E. P. Brown, missing navy paymaster, had been found at a beach town near here were in circulation in Los Angeles today, but lacked confirmation. Lucien Wheeler, head of the department of justice here, stated he had no information of the finding of the body. One report was that the man who committed suicide on an electric car at Santa Monica, giving his name as "Joe Bush," might be he.

Reveal Hiding Place of Missing $30,000

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—The navy department today expected to recover $30,000 from a deposit box in an eastern city, as a result of information furnished by Mrs. Daisy Brown, wife of Lieutenant Ervine Brown, now sought in connection with the disappearance of $120,000 navy funds.

Mrs. Brown, who told naval authorities in San Diego of the location of the additional money, after turning over to them $75,820 of the amount said to have been taken by the missing man, is now at Anasua, near here, with her three children.

The De Roche was bound for New York and was in the same vicinity. Both vessels are operated by the Union Oil company.

Whitman, bond salesman for a New York City firm, as they backed through the door. Whitman started to enter the bank as the bandits were coming out to their automobile.

SENSATIONS IN SENATE HEARING

Offer of $50,000 Bribe for Pardon Is Charged By Senator Wheeler

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The Senate's investigation mill ground out a new crop of sensations today.

While J. Ed Dyche, former warden of Atlanta prison, was testifying that the Rev. Heber Votaw, brother-in-law of the late President Harding, used his official position to stop a clean-up of drug smuggling into the penitentiary, Senator Wheeler sprang a fresh surprise by introducing evidence purporting to show that Charles Vincent of Baltimore agreed to pay $50,000 for a pardon from the department of justice—a pardon which he never got.

Produces Letter
With dramatic suddenness, Wheeler produced a letter written by Vincent to Elias H. Mortimer, who has figured in other alleged "deals" during the present investigation. It contained a commutation or remission of a sentence of 18 months which Vincent was facing in Atlanta.

The letter contained a footnote signed by Mortimer, ratifying the agreement.

As soon as he had read the letter, Wheeler called Mrs. Mortimer from among the spectators and had her identify her husband's signature.

Votaw Halted Dope Clean-up, Is Charge
WASHINGTON, April 4.—Heber Votaw, superintendent of federal prisons, and a brother-in-law of the late President Harding, halted an investigating designed to stop the smuggling of dope into the Atlanta penitentiary, J. E. Dyche, of Oklahoma, a former warden, charged today before the Wheeler-Brookhart committee investigating the department of justice.

William J. Burns corroborated that part of Dyche's story that Votaw stopped the investigation into the drug smuggling at Atlanta prison.

Withholds Files
Acting Attorney-General Beck today refused to give the committee the department of justice files in regard to the drug smuggling investigation. He wrote the committee a letter refusing to turn over the records on the ground they were confidential, and declared that President Coolidge wanted to get the advice of Attorney-General Stone before complying with the committee's request for secret files.

This was the same request on which President Coolidge and Attorney-General Daugherty disagreed, resulting in Daugherty's resignation.

Weeks Turns Over Papers to Senate In Air Fraud Quiz

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Secretary of War John W. Weeks today turned over to the Wheeler-Brookhart committee a batch of war department records related to alleged frauds in America's billion dollar war time aviation program.

The records were demanded by the committee in its effort to throw light upon alleged irregularities in the settlement of war claims.

In making the records available to the committee, Secretary Weeks asked that they be held in confidence and examined secretly because of their great value to the government in prosecuting war fraud cases.

COURT TRIAL TO REVEAL DETAILS OF LOVE TANGLE
'Passion Flower' Is Central Figure In Amazing Marital Romance

LODI, Cal., April 4.—The amazing features of the love tangle of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Martella and their adopted daughter, Angeleno, nicknamed "Passion Flower," were scheduled to be aired here this afternoon before Justice of the Peace J. H. Selkman.

Preliminary hearings of Mr. and Mrs. Martella, held in jail on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, are expected to shed light on the role played by Angeleno, who, adopted by the couple when she was two years old, as a daughter, later became "Mother," bearing Martella two children.

The strange trio, who came here recently from South Mountain, Pa., stood dazed today as they prepared to go into court, failing to understand why they were charged with wrongdoing.

Happy for 13 Years
"My husband loved us both and we were happy for thirteen years," said Mrs. Martella. "Now we go to jail, for what—because we are happy?"

Martella is 55, his wife 54, and Angeleno is 30.

Martella said he discovered his love for the "Passion Flower" when she was 20. Mrs. Martella did not object and "so we lived happily."

A son is hastening here from South Mountain to aid his parents.

OUTSIDE DISTRICTS GIVE THEIR VIEWS ON MERGER AT JOINT MEETING HERE

Merger Scheme Would Not Succeed at This Time, Visiting Trustees Declare; Show Approval of Plan For Junior High

Representatives from the so called "up-country" elementary school districts of Monte Vista, Tujunga and La Crescenta, present last night at a joint meeting of the Glendale Union High School Board of Trustees and the Glendale City Board of Education, called by the educational committee of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, made it very plain that the residents of those districts are staunchly opposed to any consolidation of the two educational boards functioning in Glendale at this time. And, as this consolidation can only be effected by their annexation to the city of Glendale for school purposes, or their withdrawal from the Union High school district, the proposition has reached an impasse which seemed to those present last night insurmountable, as far as consolidation is concerned.

They did express themselves, however, as being heartily in favor of the formation of a Junior High school district comprising the same elementary school districts as at present constitute the High school district, and Wallace M. Morgan of Tujunga, re-introduced the resolution adopted some fifteen months ago at a joint meeting of all the boards which directed the trustees of the High school to call a mass meeting of citizens for the purpose of instructing them to ask for a bond issue for the erection of Junior High schools.

No Vote Is Taken
The vote on the resolution was never called for, as the meeting adjourned before C. W. Ingledue, who presided, deemed that a discussion on the subject had been ended.

The argument on the adoption of the resolution hinged on the county council's interpretation of the law as to who paid for any buildings erected in an outlying district, provided such district or districts withdrew from the Union district before the bonds issued for the construction of the building had been redeemed. The question, a very complicated one, was argued at some length, and the meeting finally broke up to await a definite decision from the county council on this subject.

The meeting was called at 8 o'clock by C. W. Ingledue, representing the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, who was afterward made permanent chairman. Irving H. Oliver was appointed secretary. Among those present were M. E. R. Snow, R. Henry, P. Bailey and C. C. Campbell, members of the Monte Vista board, and J. H. Creighton, principal of the Monte Vista school; Wallace M. Morgan, J. B. Johnson and Mrs. Marian J. Reynolds of Tujunga; C. C. Culbertson and Thomas A. Baldrige of La Crescenta; Richardson D. White, Glendale city superintendent; D. J. Black, business manager; D. J. Hibben, president.

Creed Is Outlined
Today's luncheon was given over to a discussion of the functions of the new club in the civic life of the city. The Optimists' Creed, which follows, was read over by the members:

To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind. To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person you meet.

To make all your friends feel that there is something in them. To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true.

To think only of the best, to work only for the best and expect only the best.

To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.

To forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future.

To wear a cheerful countenance at all times and give every living creature you meet a smile.

To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.

To be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.

This creed is the basis of the Optimists' clubs of America, numbering over 100 chapters, in practically every important city of the country. The Glendale chapter is being sponsored by the Pasadena chapter, of which William A. Werge is president. The Los Angeles chapter, one of the strongest in the chain, is much interested in the formation of the Glendale chapter, of which A. H. Voelker is temporary secretary.

He asked the mothers to make suggestions that might be of assistance in carrying out the plans for prevention of accidents.

Miss Tupper spoke on health conditions in the schools in general, and stated that Colorado street school had the best record in the city during the past year, for having the fewest cases of contagion and other illnesses.

In answer to queries in reference to the present state-wide agitation regarding the hoof and mouth disease, she stated that there is nothing to fear in connection with the local dairies as the milk is perfectly safe for use after being pasteurized. Following these talks, the mothers joined in an interesting informal discussion of these important subjects.

FIND BOULEVARD ROUTE FEASIBLE, RANDALL CLAIMS

Planning Commission Will Aid Plan for Route
Along Fourth St.

The report by President J. H. Randall of the Fourth Street Improvement association on the opening and widening of this boulevard from the Burbank to the Pasadena city limits was heard with much interest by a well-attended meeting of the association held last night at the Grand View school.

The City Planning Commission has endorsed the project and will recommend it to the City Council and push it in all ways possible. Mr. Randall reported. Chairman T. W. Watson of that committee, together with City Engineer Benjamin F. Dupuy and President J. H. Randall of the Fourth Street Improvement association, went over the proposed route of the new boulevard on Wednesday, April 2, and found it to be entirely feasible.

C. M. Newby, chairman of the right of way committee, reported that the necessary deeds for property owners to sign have all been made out.

Following a report by Mrs. M. B. Buckman, outlining the crowded school conditions in northwest Glendale and the need for a grammar school in the district south of San Fernando road, between the Grand View school and the Burbank city limits, it was decided to plan for a big mass meeting in the near future, to be devoted entirely to the school situation in this section.

Glendale Must Continue To Go Forward

No community ever stands still. It goes ahead or it falls behind. The Glendale Chamber of Commerce deserves great credit for its efforts in assisting in the development of the city—but backed by a SUBSTANTIAL COMMUNITY ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN it could obtain far greater results in adding to our population, and assuring prosperity for the Gateway City for the next decade. The little town of Delano, California, spends $15 per capita for publicity work, while Glendale spends the handsome sum of 56 cents per head! This city is on the way to metropolitan greatness if it takes advantage of its wonderful situation AND ADVERTISES systematically. Publicity put over Los Angeles, Hollywood and San Diego—and it will continue to increase their growth. Los Angeles is a household word among hundreds of thousands of people in many European countries, who do not even know that New Orleans, Milwaukee or Kansas City exist! ADVERTISING DID IT! Glendale stands at the very threshold of greater greatness. It will either go ahead or slip back into comparative obscurity. Which shall it be? Citizens of Glendale, that decision is up to you! A move is under way to secure a national advertising fund sufficient to tell the world about Glendale. The campaign must have the hearty support—AND DOLLARS—of all loyal citizens. A Southern California organization is now engaged in a national advertising campaign to "sell" the world Southern California. Now is the time for Glendale to step in and tell the world about Glendale IN PARTICULAR. Let's go!

Postmaster Acquitted On Smuggling Charge

GREAT FALLS, Mont., April 4.—Nearly the entire population of Thoeny, Mont., trekked back home today to spring farm work following the acquittal here of J. M. Thoeny, postmaster, justice of the peace and owner of the general store of the town named for him, of charges of smuggling wheat across the Canadian border. The town of Thoeny is just across the border line from the great Saskatchewan wheat fields. Forty-five men were brought here from Thoeny, a distance of 200 miles, to testify for both sides. Bitterness between the factions first arose when an anti-Thoeny adherent was slain in the prairie nearly a year ago. "There'll be some gun play, and guess we'll have to do some shooting" were subdued remarks heard after the trial and acquittal of

Patent Attorney Gets Two Year Prison Term

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—Norman T. Whitaker, well-known patent attorney of Washington and internationally-known chess player, was sentenced in federal court here yesterday to serve two years in Leavenworth penitentiary for violation of the Dyer automobile act. Federal Judge James, who sentenced Whitaker, disregarded a recommendation of the jury which convicted the attorney that he be given leniency.

Whitaker, according to the government attorney who prosecuted the case, was the head of a gang of automobile thieves who operated near Philadelphia.

GIVE SHAW PLAY AT CLUB TONIGHT

'You Never Can Tell', Four Act Production, Will Run Two Nights

The comic drama or dramatic comedy, whichever you choose to call it, of Bernard Shaw's four-act comedy, "You Never Can Tell," is to entertain Glendale people tonight and tomorrow night at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, where a cast directed by Granville Sturgis will present the play under the auspices of the drama department of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

With much talent at his command, Mr. Sturgis has been able to do some splendid coaching work. Heading the list of talented members of the cast are Louis Sargent, successful motion picture actor, and Harold Brewster, dramatic instructor at the Glendale Union High school.

Brewster As Butler
Mr. Brewster will play the part of William the waiter, a part he took in the production of the play in Pasadena.

Other members of the cast are Mrs. Charles Gowan, Mrs. Harry Lockwood, Mrs. H. C. Vandewater, Mrs. Malvern Barker, Gould Warren, Harry Murphy and Marion Morrison.

Tickets for the play will be on sale at the door of the auditorium.

BIG CONVENTION FEATURES OPEN TO GLENDALEANS

Night Sessions Arranged
For General Public as Well as Members

The twenty-third annual convention of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs, next week in Glendale is to be of value not only to the club women in attendance as delegates, but the entire city as well, for, according to Mrs. Campbell, the convention sessions at night will be open to those desiring to attend.

The morning and afternoon sessions will be largely devoted to reports from the various clubs, on luncheons, entertainment and discussion and consideration of resolutions and will be for club women. The night sessions have a broad appeal and many Glendaleans will avail themselves of the splendid cultural and educational opportunities offered on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Dr. Jordan to Speak
On Tuesday night Dr. David Starr Jordan, president emeritus of Leland Stanford, Jr., University, will give the feature address of the convention on the convention theme, "Education for Peace."

In addition there will be a musical program and greetings from the hostess club and city of Glendale. Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, will preside.

The next night the program will be devoted to the three arts, drama, music and literature.

On the final night, Thursday, the annual district banquet will take place, followed by a message from the state president, Mrs. John C. Urquhart, and an address by Dr. Franklin T. Baker on "Education for Peace, the Obligation of the Schools."

Attendance at the banquet will be by ticket only, the reservations going to club women. It is possible that many Glendaleans will hear Mrs. Urquhart and Dr. Baker later.

London's noiseless street is paved with rubber bricks, which will last for 15 years, it is estimated, and may be renewed at the cost of ordinary creosoted wood blocks.

JOURNALISTS TO STAGE LUNCHEON FOR CLUB WOMEN

Writers at Convention Will Entertain Presidents
And Chairmen

The real frolic during the club convention next week in Glendale will be the press luncheon, Wednesday noon, April 9, at the Egyptian Village.

Mrs. Leland A. Irish, press chairman of the district, assisted by Mrs. E. M. Timmerhoff, state and district chairman of circulation, has arranged the affair, and announcement is now made of the final program as completed this morning.

Honored guest and speaker will be Mrs. John C. Urquhart, state president. Sharing honors with her will be Daniel H. Jones, noted statistician, who will speak on "Why Los Angeles?"

Will Present Editors
The versatile toastmistress will be Mrs. Grace Frye, past state chairman of press. In addition to the speakers of honor, she will present a group of Los Angeles club editors, Myra Nye, Caroline Walker, Jean Loughboro, Ruth McClintock, Gertrude Price and Jessica Finley.

During the luncheon hour there will be entertainment in the form of a cabaret program. There will appear "Bill Hatch," of radio fame; Mrs. Floryan Thompson, composer, pianist and soprano; Miss Doris Russell, dancer, accompanied by Mrs. George H. Winsworth; Miss Jessie Herron, dancer, and, possibly, "Chic" Sale, popular vaudeville entertainer.

Noted Speakers
Others seated at the speakers' table will be Mrs. Blanche Harman Verbeck, president of the Southern California Women's Press club; Mrs. Helen Chalmers Kingston, dramatic director of the Cosmos club.

Club presidents, press chairmen and newspaper women representing the five counties in the district will be in attendance. The ushers are to appear in Egyptian costumes. Clever place cards will be another feature.

Miss Eva Daniels, chairman of publicity of the Tuesday Afternoon club, assisted by Mrs. John Robert White, who occupied that position last year, are assisting in the plans for the luncheon.

DESCRIBES VISIT TO NEW ORLEANS, FRENCH QUARTER

Wonders of Quaint Section
Related by Speaker at Club Meeting

Mrs. Charles H. Newby, of Hollywood, from the Community Service department of the Los Angeles district of Federated Clubs, was the speaker at the Thursday Afternoon club yesterday at the home of Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, 1423 South Broadway.

In an informal manner Mrs. Newby gave an account of a visit she made some years ago to New Orleans, going there from Fort Worth, Texas. A number of details of the trip were related with a most interesting account of the old French quarters in New Orleans, where nothing had been changed for two hundred years.

Mrs. E. V. Bacon, president of the club, presided over the business session which opened with the salute to the flag. Letters pertaining to club activities were read from Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of Los Angeles district, and from Mrs. Robert J. Burdett, director of the general federation.

Food Sale Planned

Mrs. S. H. Vantine reported on the result of the paper drive held recently and also announced a home-cooked food sale which will be held April 12, at the Denman real estate office, 1400 South Brand.

Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, Mrs. S. H. Vantine and Mrs. J. W. Sharpe were appointed to act as a nominating committee to nominate officers for the coming year. A delicious salad, wafers and coffee were served by the hostesses of the day, Mesdames Anderson, Valet, Archer, Webber and Newton. Later, by request, Mrs. Anderson sold the recipe for the salad for the benefit of the club treasury.

GAS APPLIANCES TO BE EXHIBITED ALL OVER STATE

Educational Campaign Will Be Carried on During
Week April 7-21

When the President of the United States issued a proclamation on the 11th of March, when thirty Governors in thirty states endorsed the movement, and when Herbert Hoover accepted the chairmanship of the Better Homes movement, it implied more than just the proper furnishings for the home. It meant better equipment for the home, the reducing of the overhead, reducing the labor, in conducting the home.

It was with this object in view that the Gas Appliance Society of California is devoting the week of April 7 to 21 to an intensive educational campaign as to the efficiency of gas appliances for the home.

Will Show Appliances

The show windows, and the floor space of the hardware, furniture and appliance stores will be filled with gas appliances during the special exhibit.

The purpose of this campaign, frankly stated, is to stimulate the use of gas appliances in the home, the public institution, the hotel and restaurant, and the industries. At the same time every home, institution and factory which is led to substitute gas for other fuels will be immeasurably compensated by the substitution. The benefits reach into all departments of home life, economic, social and even religious.

The economic advantages resultant from the use of gas in the home are numerous. They include fuel economy, the saving of the housewife's time and labor, cleanliness, convenience and efficiency.

Social Advantages

Among the social advantages are the employment of saved time in self-education and self culture in attention to other important departments of the home, in association with friends at home and even at their homes, free afternoons for the lecture room, the bridge party or any other form of entertainment. For it is possible now for the housewife to prepare the menu for dinner, place all the dishes in the oven, heated by a regulated flame, set the gas' log or the furnace at the desired temperature, dress for the afternoon and leave home with no thought of worry, confident that upon her return, the house will be comfortable and the dinner will be cooked as it should be.

On Sunday, when many families insist upon an offering to Epiphany, even at the sacrifice of the housewife, church services need not be neglected. The regulation, automatic and arbitrary, of gas-burning appliances has been brought to that state of perfection which permits the housewife to prepare the courses for dinner, place them in a regulated oven and pay no attention to the stove for hours at a time. She may even go to church and return to a dinner properly cooked and ready for service, after the performance of a few last-minute details.

Everyone Benefits

The dealer then, is not the only one benefited by the stimulation of the use of gas appliances in the home. The buyer not only acquires a good kitchen range, for instance, but also an extension of leisure hours, and opportunities for the pursuit of happiness. Pursuit of happiness is guaranteed by the federal constitution. The opportunity for its pursuit may be furnished by the husband by the purchase of time-saving appliances, the electric sweeper, the washing machine, the gas range, the gas heater. America can forgoethers so highly regarded the pursuit of happiness as to guarantee it in the constitution. The husband's duty is to provide for his wife the opportunity for this pursuit.

During the Gas Equipment Exhibit for Better Homes all the big hardware, stove and house furnishing stores will display in their windows exhibits of the newest gas appliances, ranges, water heaters, furnaces. Within the store sections will be set aside for the exclusive display of these appliances. They are placed there for inspection. No one need feel reluctant to visit the display because of a false sense of obligation to buy, for while the opportunity to sell will not be avoided, the prime result to be achieved by the display is of an informative and educational nature.

Install Officers of White Shrine Tonight

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts are to become worthy high priestesses and watchman of the White Shrine of Omar Shrine. White Shrine of Jerusalem, at installation ceremonies taking place tonight in the Masonic Temple on South Brand boulevard.

It will be a semi-public affair with Mrs. Evelyn G. Pierce, retiring worthy high priestess, serving as installing worthy high priestess. She will be assisted by Alvah H. Leland, watchman of the shepherds and Orma Vesper Naudain, past worthy high priestess, who will serve as installing chaplain. Other prominent members of the order from Hollywood, Los Angeles and Pasadena Shrines will assist.

Throughout the installation entertainment features will be introduced. There will be vocal solos by Mrs. Frank Arnold, Glenn L. Pearce and Miss Elizabeth Mottern, and a fancy dance by Lois Naudain.

Sinclair Oil Output Flows in Pipe Lines

KEARNEY, Neb., April 4.—Creeping along at a rate of about one and a quarter miles an hour the regular flow of oil in the Sinclair Oil company pipe line between Teapot Dome and Kansas City, reached Kearney, the half way mark, shortly after the noon hour yesterday. The big pumps here were all in readiness to receive the flow, a portion of which was promptly diverted to the storage tanks for use as a fuel at the pumping station. According to officials of the company stationed at district headquarters here no trouble has been experienced along the line to date.

Oil will be pumped uninterruptedly 24 hours a day and will attain a speed of seven miles per hour, under pressure, once a regular movement is established. It is said the outcome of the Sinclair leases of naval oil land in

Plan Presentation of Memorial Library

Preparations for the formal presentation of the new Mary Norton Clapp library building at Occidental College to the institution are under way. The beautiful addition to the campus will be received by President R. D. Bird, head of the college, on Founders' Day, April 25. Appropriate ceremonies will be had in the morning and the faculty, students, alumni, and friends of the institution will join in the celebration.

Occidental's new library building is a memorial to Mrs. Mary Norton Clapp, wife of Dr. E. P. Clapp of Pasadena. The structure is to cost $150,000 when completed, and is the generous gift of an anonymous benefactor and friend of the college.

The Teapot Dome will have no effect on the operation of the pipe line.

Lower Prices Given to Electrical Users

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Agricultural users of electricity in the San Joaquin valley received a present of $125,000 a year yesterday in the form of reduced electrical rates for agricultural power service placed in effect by the railroad commission for the San Joaquin Light and Power corporation this month.

The reduced rates are the result of several months' negotiation between the California Farm Bureau federation, the railroad commission and the San Joaquin Light and Power corporation.

The matter was taken up with the company by representatives of the farm bureau and railroad commission last fall, and after several informal conferences officials of the company agreed to a reduction of the power rate for agricultural power use approxi-

Senate Quiz of Land Fraud in Full Swing

WASHINGTON, April 4.—After several bitter rows the Senate's investigation of alleged Texas land frauds finally got under way in full swing late yesterday. James R. Reduction In Rate on Oil Is Ordered

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—The Richfield Oil company yesterday won its complaint against the Sunset Railway company, Southern Pacific company and the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway company. The oil company alleged that rates charged by the carriers on carload shipments of petroleum products, including gasoline and liquefied gas, from Kerto, Taft, Fellow, Shale and Bakersfield to Los Angeles subsequent to May 15, 1921, were unjust, unreasonable, discriminatory and prejudicial to complainant. The railroad commission yesterday issued its order directing defendants to place in effect within twenty days a rate of 38½ cents per 100 pounds for the transportation of such products from Bakersfield to Los Angeles and a rate of 41½ cents per 100

VIOLA YORBA IS BIG SUCCESS IN FILM'S PREMIERE

'Yankee Speed' Gives Local Girl Chance to Show
Dramatic Ability

Like a breath of the old California, dainty Viola Yorba of Glendale cast the spell of her charming personality over a large audience that assembled at the Glendale theatre last night to witness her screen debut.

The picture was "Yankee Speed," directed for Sunset Productions by Robert North Bradbury of Glendale, from "Mystery Castle," a story by himself. Spanish-American in theme, and with many scenes easily identified by Glendaleans as taken nearby, the occasion was an especially significant one for the people of this city, particularly in view of the fact that President Anthony J. Xydias of the producing company extended Manager William A. Howe of the Glendale theatre the special courtesy of presenting the picture here for its world premiere.

Star Sings Songs
Miss Yorba appeared in person, as a special prologue to her picture, and sang three Spanish songs, "La Golondrina," "Marcheta" and "La Paloma." All were well received, and at the conclusion of the prologue flowers were presented to this talented young woman by several admirers, among them a beautiful basket from William A. Howe.

So perfect was the atmospheric prologue that when the picture was thrown on the screen and Viola Yorba was seen in the role of "Marquita Fernandez," the illusion held over that it had been Marquita herself who had stood there behind the footlights and sang so charmingly.

The story had to do with the machinations of an eccentric Spanish landowner, who, to learn which of his heirs really cared for him, pretended to have died, leaving the most extraordinary will. As one of the heirs, Marquita comes to "Mystery Castle," bringing with her a maid, who later goes over to the camp of the enemy, said enemy being "Garcia," one of those sleek, dark-haired chaps who looks the villain on first sight.

Athletic Hero
The counter-plot concerns one of those "hard-headed" business men, who has a son of the Douglas Fairbanks variety, played by Kenneth MacDonald, who would rather climb verandas than balance ledgers. How this young fellow, who gives the photoplay its name of "Yankee Speed," gets mixed up in the hectic events at the castle, where Marquita is in danger of her life, forms the body of the story.

In the end, of course, the old don turns up alive, and Marquita and her bravest Americano win the customary reward, Garcia being given the gate.

All through the picture, Miss Yorba did excellent work, proving not only that she photographs extremely well, but that she has genuine histrionic ability and a screen personality that should take her far.

Give Report on State Compensation Fund

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—The report of the state compensation insurance fund for the year 1923, transmitted to Governor Richardson and the state board of control yesterday by the industrial accident commission shows the year was the largest in the fund's history, the premiums written reaching the grand total of $5,470,099.92, an increase of 13.02 per cent over 1922. Earned premiums likewise increased 13.75 per cent. A total sum of $1,784,237.26 was paid to policy holders as dividends in 1923, this being the largest yearly dividend payment since the organization of the fund.

SEELIG BUSINESS GROWTH IS TOLD

From Corner Grocery to 210
Stores With Turnover of $1,000,000 Monthly

On April 1, 1911, Sam Seelig started in the grocery business at Pico and Figueroa streets, Los Angeles. The store prospered under his management and soon several other stores were opened.

At that time he approached his banker for assistance, who told that one store was all any man should try to run. Mr. Seelig persisted in his idea of operating a large retail grocery business until today 210 stores doing a million dollars' worth of business over the counter every month are a refutation of the opinion of some folks who said it couldn't be done.

Vision of Service
Merchandising success is often startling to those who would try to judge the future of business as based on some of the old-fashioned ways of doing business. Mr. Seelig has always looked forward with the object in mind to improve his service, his merchandise and his prices. Today a half million dollar warehouse stacked with 200 carloads of groceries and 210 stores prove that he was right.

The strict adherence to a policy of money-back guarantee on everything sold over his counters, and the same prices accorded every locality no matter whether it is one block or thirty miles from the central warehouse, have made the Seelig stores very popular.

And from the little corner grocery doing a few thousand dollars of business a month to the gigantic enterprise serving 400,000 patrons every week, only thirteen years intervene.

SOCIAL PROGRAM FOR CONVENTION AT L. A. OUTLINED

Nearly 200 Functions Are Planned for National Women's Meeting

Mrs. Charles H. Toll, one of the honorary vice-presidents of the local biennial board, arranging for the gathering in June of the General Federation of Women's clubs, presided yesterday at a meeting of the board, when a social program of astounding proportions was outlined for the coming event. It will perhaps be the most elaborate that Los Angeles has ever experienced, nearly 200 social functions being planned for the entertainment of the delegates and guests.

Large Reception

There will be a reception at the Biltmore hotel the night of June 8, the opening day, with eight receiving lines, composed of the most prominent clubwomen in the state. On this same day 1000 California women will lunch together at the Biltmore.

From that time on at every event, women from other states will have precedence.

A report on luncheons showed that all arrangements, even the color schemes for decorations, have been made for two luncheons of 1000 each, one for 800, one for 600, and one for 500. There will be eleven luncheons seating 400 and ten smaller dinners which in all will accommodate 3000 guests. In addition, there will be a Sunday afternoon tea.

Tons of Fruit

Literally tons of flowers and fruit have already been promised, and a request is for an ice box large enough to hold a renewed supply each day of 6000 pounds of fruits, to be given the delegates.

There will be three large luncheons each day of some degree of formality, with toastmistresses and speakers of note.

Eleven excursions are outlined through southern California, featured by a barbecue at Laguna Beach and a side trip to San Juan Capistrano. Booklets are being compiled describing in fifty words each point of interest in the south. It is announced that 6000 of these booklets will be mailed next week to clubwomen all over the country.

TRAFFIC PATROL ORDERED TO HELP CHECK PLAGUE

Instruct State Highway Men To Assist Officials In All Counties

Instructions to throw the entire strength of the state highway traffic patrol into the fight to suppress the spread of the hoof and mouth disease were issued today to C. K. Harder, chief inspector of the division of motor vehicles by Will H. Marsh, chief of the division.

The division, it was announced, now has a force of about seventy-five men operating in twenty-five counties of California. Several other counties were expected shortly to sign co-operative agreements with the division permitting additions to the patrol. Harder was advised to spare no effort in handling the situation, which officials of the department of agriculture declare very serious.

Maintain Patrol

In addition to their regular duties the traffic officers will take the following steps:

Maintain a rigid patrol of the infected areas and keep out campers.

Co-operate with local officers and department of agriculture inspectors in blockading infected areas against movement of livestock, dogs, cats and poultry.

Inspect all automobiles passing through infected areas and counties contiguous to same and disinfect them when necessary.

The following bulletin has been sent to all captains of traffic squads in their respective counties:

"Put forth every effort in your county to co-operate with state and county authorities working on quarantine matters for control of the hoof and mouth disease."

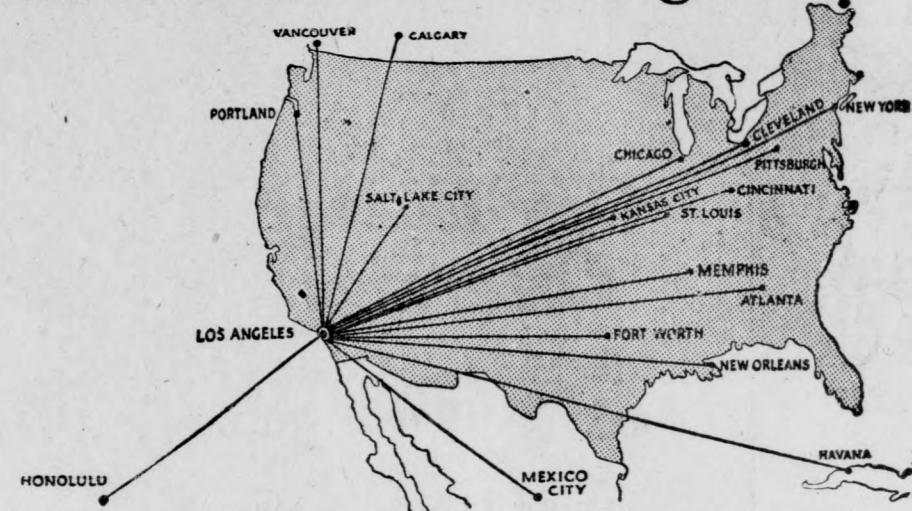

"Co-operate with these authorities by accepting assignments they desire to give you within your county. This work can be done in connection with your regular motor vehicle duties."

Glendale Canadian club members are to give a benefit dance Thursday night, May 1, to raise a donation to the fund for the British Boys' monument, to be unveiled May 30 in Inglewood cemetery. It was decided at the club meeting last night in the Knights of Pythias hall.

Mrs. William Western has been named chairman of the dance, and she and her assistants are planning a brilliant affair. Preceding this benefit dance, the regular monthly dance will be held Thursday night, April 17, in the Knights of Pythias hall. There will be dancing, cards, music and refreshments.

NAVY PAYMASTER SUICIDE, FEARED

Reports of Missing Officer's Death Unconfirmed By Investigators

He left behind a suitcase containing the money, which Mrs. Brown later turned over to the naval authorities.

Brown's family believe he is distraught because of a shortage of $120,000 in the funds in his keeping, discovered shortly after the Honda wreck last year, and that this condition of mind is responsible for his more recent actions.

Anticipate Attempt to Visit Wife, Children

SAN DIEGO, April 4.—Officers of the Eleventh naval district headquarters were today momentarily expecting to learn of the apprehension of Lieutenant Irvine P. Brown, supply corps, accused with absconding with $120,000 in navy funds.

The search was declared to be centering around Los Angeles and Azusa, where Brown is expected to again seek communication with his wife and family. Wednesday he was in Los Angeles, which gave his plucky wife, Mrs. Daisy B. Brown, an opportunity of seizing $75,820 of her husband's loot and returning it to his superior officers.

Lieutenant Brown, the authorities believe, is almost certain to make a second effort to see his wife and three children, to whom he is devoted.

E. track lowering project to the effect that he had taken engineers of the company over the proposed section to be lowered, from one block west of Grand View to the Burbank city limits, and that they had assured him the company was willing to co-operate with residents of the district in bringing about the desired improvement.

Concrete Bridges

It was decided by the association to appeal to the Glendale City Council for concrete bridges to replace the present narrow wooden structures, and to arrange a bond issue, if necessary, to meet the cost of the improvement.

It was voted to make the next meeting of the Fourth Street Improvement association, on the night of April 17, a social session, and to arrange for Secretary Hugh Pomeroy of the Los Angeles county planning commission to be the principal speaker, with members of the Glendale Advancement association and the Sycamore Canyon improvement association as guests.

Maintenance and National Service

NATURE is both the ally and the enemy of the telephone. One of her forces, electricity, carries the voice of man afar. Others, as flood, tornado or sleet storm, can cripple communications in a large area through their devastating might.

Each pair of telephone wires in the Bell System is a pathway for reciprocal speech. When beaten down by the uncontrollable forces of nature, that pathway to fifteen million telephones is blocked, and none of the nation's voices can pass that way.

Reserve materials must be on hand, that storm damage may be repaired without delay. Adequate funds must be made available so that the cost of restoration may be met.

National telephone service is only possible through an organization capable of handling, on a nation-wide basis, the problem of maintenance as well as of operation.

BURBANK

BUILDING TOTAL SETS NEW RECORD

Figures for March Nearly Double Those Year Ago, City Books Show

March produced one of the biggest permit totals in the history of Burbank building, according to figures in the office of William Coryell, building inspector, the figure being $293,068, as compared with $167,365 for March, 1923. The total for 1924 to date is now $758,439.

The only months that have ever exceeded the month just passed are May and December of last year, with $318,590 and $311,875, respectively, in building permits.

The biggest item in the month's total was $35,000 for the 50-unit court being constructed by Mr. Hague on Scott road. The next highest item was the $12,000 building being erected by the Review company.

The other items call mostly for houses now in the course of construction throughout the city. The monthly permits include 76 residences that will cost $1,000 or more.

The following tabulation offers some significant comparisons:

	1923	1924
January	$145,525	$233,085
February	170,405	232,286
March	167,365	293,068
April	151,965
May	318,590
June	157,235
July	101,875
August	147,225
September	181,360
October	176,200
November	235,440
December	311,875
Totals	$2,265,110	$758,439

Permit Prices Up

The price of building permits has taken a rise, the city trustees having amended the municipal ordinance on the subject. The price is now $2 for a permit for a building costing $1,000 or under, and $1 for each additional $1,000 in price of building, or fraction thereof. Formerly the price was $1 for a building costing up to $500; $1.50 up to $1,000 and 50 cents for each additional $1,000 or fraction thereof. The present rate makes a permit $4 for a building to cost $3,000.

The advance in price was necessary in order to care for the increased cost of handling the large bulk of permits now pouring into the building department, according to Mr. Coryell.

Election Results

Duncan Forsyth was reinstated as a school trustee for another term as a result of the recent municipal election. He received 233 votes, while W. E. Roskam, his nearest competitor, received 74 votes. These were the only two names on the ballot, but the name of Hamner was written in by five people who wanted to see him on the board, and one person wrote in the name of Schmeidel. Mr. Forsyth's term does not expire until the first of May, at which time there will be a reorganization of the school board, which means the election of a president and secretary.

Proper Methods In Care Of Foodstuffs

Less than a decade ago, ice was generally considered a luxury, and its use was limited to the hot summer months. The assumption was that foodstuffs would retain their freshness and wholesomeness as long as they were kept reasonably cool. And reasonably cool usually meant any temperature under seventy degrees.

Science, however, took a different viewpoint in this matter of food preservation. Scientists knew that deterioration of food is caused by certain bacteria, and that these bacteria become active in any temperature higher than fifty degrees. Exhaustive laboratory experiments revealed that even when a food shows none of the usual signs of spoiling, much of its nutritive value may be lost through this bacterial action. Clinical work demonstrated beyond doubt that many cases of mal-nutrition, under-nourishment and children's diseases were due to improperly preserved food.

Tell General Public
The purpose of science, however, is investigation, rather than education. In consequence, these important facts, while common knowledge to the scientifically trained person—the physician, the dietitian and domestic science expert—were practically unknown so far as the general public was concerned.

In view of this, the National Association of Ice Industries, through its various branches, took up the work of broadcasting this information in a national way. The task was a tremendous one; but the end warranted the means, as those who prepare wholesome food are beginning to realize that the health of the home is kept at a high point only by using the refrigerator the year around.

Adopt Better Methods
Just as the general public has gained through this work on the part of the Association of Ice Industries, so have the ice industries themselves. The annual consumption of ice has shown a steady increase, last year reaching the staggering figure of something like 90,000,000 pounds. Better methods of ice manufacture have been evolved. New standards of service have been established. At one time the ice man was merely the fellow who delivered the ice. Now, through a system of instruction maintained by the Ice Association, he has become an important factor in the welfare of the communities he serves. At present, it is estimated that 160,000 people are employed in the industry and that it represents an investment of about $300,000,000.

Public Can Buy Meats With Safety

As quarantine measures are being rigidly enforced—the public may buy meat and dairy products with absolute safety. All animals under suspicion of being exposed are being slaughtered. The number of animals taken from the normal food markets in this manner is enormous. In one instance in the Los Angeles stockyards districts recently 4500 head of cattle were slaughtered in one lot.

Just what effect this wholesale slaughter of animals and their consequent removal from normal food supply will have on meat prices cannot as yet be determined. No effect has been noted in local prices to date, but if these drastic measures continue it is highly probable that there will be a rise in meat prices. Local markets state that there is somewhat of a shortage at present, and expect daily to see the shortage become more acute unless meats are shipped in from outside points to offset the local scarcity.

"Drink plenty of milk," says The Farmer Boy; "it puts farm-brown on city folks."

Potatoes to Go Higher in Price

This is the mid season for potatoes, the old stock is becoming exhausted and the new crop has not arrived yet in large quantities. There is a slight rise in potatoes this week, and local market men predict an even greater rise in the next few weeks. Whether the present natural shortage is somewhat augmented by speculators holding potatoes off the market for higher prices cannot be determined. The foot and mouth disease may also be having some effect on the potato market, the shortage of meat naturally causing an increase in the demand for potatoes.

Some local markets predict that it is very possible that potatoes will go to $5.00 a hundred before many weeks.

Eggs are also expected to rise in the next few weeks.

Vegetables are remaining firm.

COMMERCIAL CHANCES

Preparation for commercial occupations and opportunities for placement in these occupations were discussed at the fourth commercial educational conference, recently held by the United States Bureau of Education in conjunction with the Vocational Educational association of the middle west at Chicago. Dr. Glen Levin Swiggett, specialist in commercial education, United States Bureau of Education, was chairman of the conference.

YOUR NEW SKIRT

In some of the shops you can buy camisole tops of silk that extend to the hips. Into these you fasten a skirt. And with one of them the making of a new skirt is an easy matter. They are especially designed to hold a plaited skirt, either one plaited all around or plaited at the sides. They are equally good for a draped skirt.

SERVICE OF VALUE

Specially trained Red Cross instructors in hygiene and nutrition are developing a service of great value in the rural sections of the country, according to School Life, a periodical published by the United States Bureau of Education. The report of the Red Cross Public Health Nursing Service for 1922 records more than 127,000 school visits made by more than 1000 nurses, and approximately 2,000,000 school children inspected. Following the leadership of the American Junior Red Cross, similar organizations have been established since the war in thirty-five other nations.

Wedding rings are notched in England and worn by some wives when no longer living with their husbands, it is said.

When Your Joints Are Sore, Stiff or Creaky--Joint-Ease

Even Chronic Rheumatic Swellings in Ankle, Knee Elbow, Shoulder or Finger Joints Yield to the Mighty Powerful Influence of JOINT-EASE.

It's here, right in town and every live druggist is selling it like hot cakes.

It's a low price remedy, to be sure, but that doesn't stop it from taking the kinks, lameness or torturing out of your troubled joints. Joint-Ease is the name, so called because it is compounded solely for the purpose of relieving all joint ailments.

Just rub it on the tormented, lame joints and in just a few seconds it will penetrate to the bone and tendons and blessed comfort comes.

It absorbs instantly and is so clean that you can rub it on often and get thereby, results much more quickly, when the joint is inflamed and the agony intense.

Being such a powerful counter irritant, it cannot help bringing speedy and helpful results in congestion, sore throat, chest colds, lumbago and neuralgia much quicker than almost any other remedy.

But you must remember that it is for joint afflictions that it is mostly dispensed and its helpfulness will astonish you after all ordinary liniments and other treatments have failed. 60 cents a tube at any live druggist.—Advertisement.

Jail Breaking Champ Is Sentenced Again

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—Zepie Saunders whose true name is said to be Robert Stewart, the champion jail breaker of California, has been sentenced to from one to fourteen years in the penitentiary on a forgery charge. Saunders has a record of four successful escapes and two attempts to his credit. He recently was returned from El Paso where he fled following his escape from officers in Northern California.

Quick Settlement in Fire Loss Case Made

H. L. Miller of the H. L. Miller Insurance Company, says he tries to stress service in his work. Bearing out this declaration is an incident that happened this week. One afternoon he received notice of a fire in Long Beach, destroying property insured through his company. He drove down the same evening and had paid the claim by 8 o'clock.

LANDS BLOW ON CHIN OF BOBBED HAIR DEVOTEES

One Woman, Entering Fray, Says Keep Your Hair and Stay Single

Such startling assertions as "If you want to keep your hair, stay single," and "Little by little women are returning to the fig leaf," are to be found in an answer received by the Bobbed-Hair Editor of The Glendale Evening News to the pro-bob sentiments expressed by "X. Y. Z." in the April 1 issue of this paper.

The present correspondent, who signs herself "Barber," takes caustic issue with "Good Sense," who declared in that issue: "There is only one thing wrong with bobbed hair—it's too long."

Says "Barber": "After reading a few comments on bobbed hair I decided to visit one of the downtown parlors where women go in numbers to have bobbing done. What I beheld, brother, I also may behold at any of the larger department stores.

Spots 'Em Quick "Am sure I saw X. Y. Z. there, together with the general mixture of her kind. I would not have recognized her but for her moon face, double chin, plucked eyebrows, painted cheeks, lips, eyelids, chalk-white nose and kittenish way of trying to transport her 189 pounds of mostly brains.

"Of course they all do the above, to gain the notice of the other women. Yes, they do, really! As a rule, the 'billiard-headed' man is too busy earning a living for his painted idol and loved ones to spend any time rubbing oil on his pate.

"Naturally, the bobs have to do something to be noticed by other women. Why not carry a red lantern? This would tend to attract the eye toward the flesh-colored hose. Believe me, while it may not be this month, in the near future a license tax will be inflicted upon every billiard-headed partner of such creatures.

Parade Not Happy "X. Y. Z. gloats over the fact she is married and happy. Why not? Who would not be? I'll bet his long ears that partner of hers isn't happy. It is not too early to start a check on every billiard head who tolerates a creature of the above type, so that when July and August come around, they can be rounded up and made to stand in the sun with their hats off to the dog that has had its day."

And to acknowledge that they should have been born with mane and tail as well as long ears!

"It's a great treat to the males who can witness what I beheld at the bob parlor and resist those beauties 'who are grandmothers' step out of the chair, pose for a moment in front of the big mirror, then gallop out with their eyes dancing before everything that has on trousers.

"However, I was fortunate enough to see the unusual happen. Grandma came rushing down the aisle all set, when of a sudden she came face to face with a party dressed in a hiking outfit. My, what a forlorn looking female again!

Fig Leaf Returning "I'm not married, plenty old enough though, have plenty of hair on my head and am glad of it. If you want to keep your hair, stay single. Do you know that there are more bald women than men? Little by little women are returning to the fig leaf.

"I'll wait and see just what I'm getting. No wooden bodies for me! I know some wear air pockets on their chests and only a few years back they were wearing pads, in various places. What next?

"Stop and think what you are doing. You are slowly but surely starving the Seven Sisters and trying to put the automobile out of business, by consuming all the petroleum we have.

Here's How, She Says "To keep your hair in excellent condition, take one egg, beat it up in a bowl and rub it into the hair and scalp, before retiring. Tie your head in a cloth, wool preferred. Next morning wash out what is left. This treatment will feed the hair roots, keep the hair young and 'soft' and bright. You will notice after the first trial that the hair is inclined to curl. You won't smell like your auto, either!

(Signed) "Barber." "P. S. This is very cheap paper."

The Bobbed-Hair Editor of The Glendale Evening News is still open to conviction, pro and con. Having more or less hurt himself, he plays no favorites. He is, moreover, neutral, though in the war zone. Write him your views, on any kind of stationery. Scrap paper will do, provided it doesn't start a family row.

Slayer Is Taken From Jail, Lynched By Mob

WOODBURY, Ga., April 4.—After shooting and fatally wounding Chief of Police Albert Wells here, Wally Blov, sixteen-year-old negro, was taken from jail by a mob, carried to nearby woods and lynched.

The chief of police had trapped the negro youth in the act of stealing some money from a local bank, it was said, and arrested him. Hearing the telephone, Chief Wells laid his revolver down to answer it when the negro seized the weapon and shot him through the temple.

L. A. District Sets Record In Returns From Income Tax

The Los Angeles internal revenue district furnished $3,607,387.44 of the increase of $17,000,000 in income tax payments for the March period in the United States as a whole, according to a report sent to Washington yesterday by Collector Rex B. Goodcell.

There are 65 internal revenue districts in the United States, and based on the number of returns filed, Los Angeles should have contributed .029 per cent of the $17,000,000 increase for the country as a whole, or $493,000.

Instead of this, the Los Angeles district set a nationwide record by furnishing $3,607,387.44, or 21.2 per cent of the entire country's gain. This means that Los Angeles supplied more than seven times the proportionate average increase called for from this district.

Students Issue First Copy of School Paper

The first edition of "The Tiger," a four-page nine-by-twelve newspaper, published by the Glendale Avenue Intermediate school, came off the press yesterday. It will be issued monthly during the school term.

This first copy contains a full page of advertising matter, late news concerning the student body association, a picture of the school building, editorials, and a full page of sports.

Student Members of the staff are Richard White, editor; Betty Biggs, assistant editor; Beth Coffman, athletic editor; Jean Williams, department editor; Ordean Chase and Joseph Tuomy compose the business staff; Miss Avis M. White, H. E. Bremer and Miss Alice Lookabaugh are faculty advisers. Reporters are Kathryn Dohne, Margaret Lou Cory, Frederick Dundas, Dorothy Erskine, Maxine Heasley, Franklin Wolcott, Josephine Creighton, John Diederich, Margaret Huse, Beatrice Guenther, Howard Chittenden, Obed Lucas, Frank Strickland, Betty Anderson, Edith Mack, Mary Goto, Robert M. Lee, Helen Lindrum, John Otto, Beth Patterson, Herick Jeffers. Printing is done by a local firm.

Among the important happenings in the issue is the announcement that at the last meeting of the school board, bids were accepted and the necessary equipment provided for that insures the opening of the long-anticipated school cafeteria. It is expected that as soon as the equipment arrives the cafeteria will be opened and made ready for immediate use.

Some feebees are large enough to carry the city of London and its suburbs, it is estimated.

PLAYERS AGREE TO RELINQUISH TITLE JUNE 30

Accede to Wish Expressed By Community Service, Avoid Confusion

In accordance with the request made by the Glendale Community Service organization that the Glendale Community players give up their name in order to avoid confusion between the two organizations, Mrs. Nanno Woods, director, authorized by the executive committee of the Community Players, agree to forfeit their name on June 30, according to the letter sent to Richardson D. White which reads as follows:

"Richardson D. White, "Dear Sir: In reply to the request of Community Service as represented by yourself, R. E. Tucker, V. M. Hollister and A. L. Baird, that the Glendale Community Players give up their name of Community Players in order to avoid confusion and embarrassment to Community Service, the members of my executive committee have authorized me to make the following statements:

Formed Long Ago "One.—That our organization of Glendale Community Players was created, organized and named, before Community Service ever came to Glendale.

Two.—That the name Community Players is used by non-commercial players in every city in the United States. There are Eagle Rock Community Players, Hollywood Community Players, Alhambra Community Players, Pasadena Community Players, etc.

Three.—But that, as we believe in really co-operating, instead of merely talking co-operation, and as we believe it is more blessed to give than to receive, more blessed to yield than to refuse, we have decided to accede to your request, and to make it possible for Glendale Community Service to accomplish what they so desire, viz., the exclusive use of the term "Community." We cannot see our way to making an immediate change of name, but after the 30th of June of this year, we will no longer use the name of Community Players.

Co-operation Promised "Four.—We trust that Community Service and the public generally will appreciate the inconvenience to which our organization will be subjected through this change of name.

Five.—We trust that our organization may in future receive from Community Service and its officials the same degree of co-operation as we are now showing you.

"Yours sincerely, "Nanno Woods, "Director Glendale Community Players."

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

IT WAS RAINING in Woodland where Uncle Wiggily lived in his hollow stump bungalow—raining very hard, and very wet rain it was, too, let me tell you.

"Ho, hum! It won't be very pleasant to go out looking for adventures this day," said the rabbit gentleman, twinkling his pink nose as he stood looking out of the window.

"You don't mean to say you are going out in the rain, are you?" queried Nurse Jan Fuzzy Wuzzy.

"Yes, why not?" asked the rabbit.

"You'll get all wet and catch cold in your pink nose and then it won't twinkle," spoke the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"I'll take an umbrella—that will keep the rain from me," said Mr. Longears. "Yes, I must go out, rain or shine, and see what sort of an adventure will come to me."

Nurse Jane sighed, but she said nothing more, for well she knew it did little good to talk to Uncle Wiggily once he had made up his mind.

"Well, be sure you take the right umbrella," she called to the rabbit uncle as he hopped into the front hall.

"The right umbrella?" he exclaimed. "Why, is there a wrong one in the rack?"

"Indeed, there is—one with a hole in one side," answered Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "If you take the umbrella with the hole in, you may get wet and catch cold."

"I'll take the right umbrella—never fear," Uncle Wiggily answered. "Anything it isn't raining now—I think it's going to stop," he added with a laugh.

And, truly, as he started out, the April shower, for such it was, ended for a time.

"Better take an umbrella just the same," advised Nurse Jane.

"Yes, it may rain again before I get back," the bunny said.

So he picked what he thought was the right umbrella out of the stand near the front door and then away he hopped over the fields and through the woods to look for an adventure.

Uncle Wiggily had not gone very far before, all of a sudden it began to rain again. Down pelted the big drops, and it was a very wet rain—none of those dry rains, you know.

"Ah! It is a good thing I brought the umbrella with me," said the bunny gentleman to himself. He raised it, but no sooner had he done so than a lot of water splashed through on his pink nose, making it twinkle twice as fast.

"I say! What's the idea?" gasped the rabbit. Then, looking up, he saw that by mistake he had taken the umbrella with a large hole in one side. It was through this hole that the rain was splashing down on him.

"Hum! That was very stupid of me," thought Uncle Wiggily. "However, I see a way out. I will turn the umbrella around so the hole is off to one side, and I will walk along under the good part of the umbrella."

So the rabbit gentleman did this. And, as the umbrella was very large, he could walk under the half that had no hole in it. This kept him dry. But through the hole in the other side of the umbrella the rain splashed, and very wet rain it was, too, let me tell you, if I have not already done so.

"It isn't so bad as it might be," thought Uncle Wiggily to himself as he hopped along. "I am kept dry, though my umbrella has a hole in it. But still I don't see any adventure coming my way."

Hardly had he spoken than out from behind a stone popped the Bob Cat, with his silly little tail.

Senator's Love Charm

Cook book paved the way to happy wedded life of Burton K. Wheeler, the Montana solon who led the investigation that resulted in Attorney-General Daugherty's dismissal from the cabinet.

"Oh, this is too much! I'm wetter here than I was behind the rock," snarled the Bob Cat, for he didn't like water. "Your umbrella is no good!" he cried to Uncle Wiggily. "Goodbye!"

"Goodbye, and good riddance!" chuckled the bunny as he hopped quickly home through the rain. "I'm glad I picked the umbrella with the hole in, else the Bob Cat might never have left me," he said.

So, once again, everything came out all right, and if the cough drop doesn't fall down stairs before the hands of the clock can catch hold of it, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Toodle's whistle.

Poems That Live

BE TRUE
Thou must be true thyself,
If thou the truth wouldst teach;
The soul must overflow, if thou
Another's soul wouldst reach;
It needs the overflow of heart
To give the lip full speech.

Think truly, and thy thought
Shall the world's famine feed;
Speak truly, and word of thine
Shall be a fruitful seed;
Live truly, and thy life shall be
A great and noble creed.

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad

HARRISBURG, April 4.—Objection to the plan of Governor Pinchot, which requires every office holder under him to take a personal pledge to support the eighteenth amendment, is gathering momentum throughout Pennsylvania and causing resignations and refusals to serve from some of the biggest men of the state. Several such recent stands again has brought the matter under the spotlight.

During Pinchot's campaign for office and following his election he pledged himself repeatedly to do everything in his power to fight the liquor traffic. He has used every force at his command to drive bootleggers out of the state and early in his administration announced that only those who obeyed the dry laws could work for the state government under his administration.

Application forms for state jobs of minor character were revised to include a personal pledge, while for more important positions a form letter was prepared, which said the same thing in a less pointed manner.

Even for Justices of the Peace the application form requires that they promise, on their "word of honor," to "support, defend and personally obey" the eighteenth amendment and all state laws enacted to carry it to effect. The form letters, which go to the more important prospective appointees, say "in accordance with the governor's public statement, this appointment is necessarily conditioned on your willingness, which he cannot doubt, that the eighteenth amendment will be obeyed not only publicly but privately as well. Regardless of whether the prospective appointee is a man who has served the state without pay for decades and known to be of dry leanings or a public service commissioner-to-be of whom the state always are many—must make that personal pledge.

The only exceptions to service for the state are in the three departments over which the governor has no constitutional authority, and all of which did not fall in line for the plan.

Soon after the plan got working well protests and refusals to serve became common. Some of them were from men who were known to have always had dry leanings and who asserted that

The governor still insists that to his mind the pledge is not necessary, and there is no reason why it should not be taken. He says he promised the people of the state a dry government, and he can best be assured of that by making certain that every person he appoints is wholly with him in his anti-wet position. He does, however, refuse to speak of it as a pledge, but calls it merely a promise, or "giving his word."

He says the plan has been in effect during the first year of his administration, and that it will continue in effect for the remaining three.

At Local Theatres

THE GLENDALE

"Love Letters," a romance of youthful folly, featuring Shirley Mason, is the picture at the Glendale theater today and tomorrow, a William Fox offering written by Fred Jackson.

Miss Mason has been surrounded by a cast which blends favorably with her characterization. Gordon Edwards, who was in "The Shepherd King," staged in Palestine and "The Silent Command," produced in New York, showed in those two productions that he was capable of portraying responsible parts.

In addition, five acts of standard Bert Levey coast-to-coast vaudeville are on the bill at the Glendale theater today and tomorrow, including singing, novelty and dancing numbers.

Seek Girls Believed Kidnapped from School

DENVER, April 4.—A state wide search is under way by authorities for three young girls who are believed to have been kidnapped from a private school for girls in this city last Tuesday night.

A fourth victim of the alleged abduction, Elaine Cleaves, 16, told police, they said, a lurid story of being forced from her room in the school by a youth armed with a revolver and being carried away in an automobile. A second car, she said, "that contained several other men and three girls, followed the machine she was in. The missing girls are Mildred McPherson, 14; Ethel Leblanc, and Dorothy Holt, both 16.

THE GATEWAY

"Her Temporary Husband," featuring Sid Chaplin, is the feature continuing at the Gateway theater today and tomorrow. Owen Moore, Sylvia Breamer and Tully Marshall round out the cast. It is a First National attraction, directed by John McDermott.

The picture is a screen version of Sidney Paulton's popular stage comedy success of the same title. While taking the main theme of the play for its plot the director, John McDermott, enhanced the picture with added situations and circumstances, which, through the limitations of the stage, could not have been included in the original play. He has evolved a rick-tickler which, without doubt, is one of the best of its kind ever shown in this city.

BABY DAY

Mrs. P.—Most child specialists advise weaning to be begun about the ninth month—unless the child is doing well and the ninth month comes during the hot weather; under such circumstances it is, perhaps, just as well to postpone it. If your baby has been having one bottle a day since some time from the second to the fourth month, then she is used to the bottle. Omit a second breast feeding and give her another bottle for a week. The following week omit another breast feeding and so on, until she is totally weaned. This gradual weaning causes no disturbances, while sudden weaning is apt to do so.

From the ninth to the twelfth month, a baby can be having strained cereal, up to three or four level tablespoons, at two meals; dry toast, egg yolks, strained puree of vegetables, up to three or four level tablespoons. Any new food should be begun in very tiny amounts—one-half level teaspoonful, and the food increased not over that amount about every other day. We will give you a list of books going into details of feeding babies, if you will send a stamped and self-addressed envelope, requesting it.

The soft spot (fontanel) on the baby's head, is not usually closed until about the eighteenth month.

Worried Mother—Your condensed milk-fed baby of thirteen months has eight teeth, but they are beginning to decay at the gums, because he is not getting the elements he needs to build him up. At thirteen months, he should be having a varied diet, with considerable solid foods—dry toast, cereal, strained vegetables, fruit, egg yolks and a quart of fresh milk.

You may have difficulty in getting him on to these foods now, and you had better take him to a children's specialist or to some baby clinic, for special guidance. You may have to actually starve him before he will take anything but the sweet condensed milk, but it will be better for him to be exceedingly hungry for two or three days than to have rickets and scurvy, which he is bound to get if you continue your present feedings. See my answer to Mrs. P. above.

E. H.—"It is hardly fair for me to receive so many splendid recipes without doing my bit, so I am sending you this recipe for a most delicious cake. I hope some of your readers will report on it: Banana Cake: One-third cup of butter (or substitute), one cup of sugar, two eggs, one-half cup of sweet milk (or water), one and three-quarters cups of flour sifted with two and one-half level teaspoons of baking powder. Cream butter, add sugar, then beaten egg yolks and the flour and baking powder alternately with the milk. Last fold in the stiffly-beaten egg whites. Bake in two layers for about thirty minutes in a hot oven, then put together with the following: Banana Filling: Cook together one cup of mashed banana pulp, the juice of one-half lemon or orange, one-half cup of sugar, one tablespoon of butter, and when thickened, cool before spreading between cake layers. Here is another good filling: Mash two bananas to a cream and then stir into them a boiled cake frosting (made in the ordinary way). Spread on layers."

Mrs. M.: Potato Cullers: Mash

three medium-sized boiled potatoes, then stir into them two cups of sugar, one cup of sweet milk, three eggs, three heaping teaspoons of baking powder, two tablespoons of lard or butter, a pinch of salt and ground nutmeg, and flour enough to make stiff. Fry in deep fat, like any doughnuts.

P. E.: "Here is my recipe for Afternoon Coffee Bread: Mix together two cups of flour, one cup of sugar, two teaspoons of baking powder, and one teaspoon of salt; stir into this dry mixture one beaten egg, one cup of sweet milk, and one-fourth cup of any kind of fruit juice (or the juice of one-half an orange) then turn the batter into a bread pan which measures about eight by 12 inches and over the top put three tablespoons of melted butter mixed with one tablespoon of flour, one tablespoon of sugar and one teaspoon of ground cinnamon. Bake for 20 minutes in a moderate oven."

A Friend: "My Nut Bread: Sift together two cups of flour, one-half cup of sugar, two full teaspoons of baking powder and one level teaspoon of salt. Add one well-beaten egg and one-half cup of sweet milk, then mix well. Now add three-fourths of a cup of chopped walnut meats, and turn the batter into a loaf-cake pan. Let stand one-half hour to rise slightly and brown light, and bake from 30 to 40 minutes in a good oven."

Wed By Six Pastors

Half a dozen ministers officiated at the wedding of N. E. Paton and Miss Ruth Britt, and now they fear it may take six judges to divorce them if they should want their freedom.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 4.—There is no doubt that N. E. Paton, international secretary of Co-operative clubs, and Miss Ruth Britt are really married. When the ceremony was performed at a luncheon of the Kansas City Co-operative club, six clergymen, all ministers of the organization, officiated. They were: Dr. H. H. Mayer, Jewish rabbi; Rev. Father M. D. Tierney, Roman Catholic priest; the Rev. Dr. Burris Jenkins and the Rev. Earl Blackman, Disciples of Christ ministers, and the Rev. Dr. D. J. Evans and the Rev. Samuel H. Harkless, Presbyterian ministers. Now friends of the couple are jokingly suggesting that it will take six judges to liberate them if they should ever want a divorce.

Heart and Home

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

SHUNNED

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young girl of 18 and in my junior year at high school. I am considered a good mixer, nice dresser but not gaudy, nice dancer, nice-looking, but I lack the heaven sent gift of being popular.

My boy friends tell other girls that they like my appearance and think I am nice and yet they never ask me to go to any of the high school dances or plays. My other girl friends all get bids and I never do and it has caused me many a headache and cry.

I have taken my friends in our car to games. The last game my father refused to let me have the car. Before the afternoon they all had ways to go with some one else and nobody had even thought of asking me.

I don't know as I would care to have a steady and yet I would like to be asked just once in a while. Can you tell me what is wrong? Why am I forgotten? Why must I go by myself if I wish to go anywhere? Please help me. I am heartbroken over it.

THANK YOU.

In describing yourself you have mentioned qualities which certainly will help to make a girl popular. Probably you are too gentle with yourself and overlook the weak points which handicap you. Perhaps you are not a good talker and lean on others in the matter of conversation. Unless a girl is interesting and good at leading young men into conversation, she is rarely popular. If you are a good mixer, as you say you are,

name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor

you must be interesting, however, and therefore I am at a loss to understand wherein you fail. I would advise you to look about you for new friends. Your present associates only bring you unhappiness. I feel confident that there are girls you could find as friends who would be more appreciative and considerate of you. In the future when you try to analyze yourself, look for your weak points and try to correct them. You will not get anywhere unless you judge yourself impartially and realize that you have imperfections as well as virtues. At your age you need not become discouraged, because there is considerable time ahead of you in which to make men friends.

FROM TWO GIRLS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: We are two girls, 13 and 14 years of age. We would like to know if it is all right to correspond with a slight acquaintance? We met her while she was passing through town. Is it proper to go to parties where the hostess invites the boys and the boys invite the girls? There are several nice boys in school, and although we speak we are not well acquainted. What can we do to get better acquainted?

THICK AND THIN.

Yes, it would be all right to correspond with the slight acquaintance whom you met while she was passing through town. It is all right to attend a party with a boy when the hostess has asked him to extend the invitation to the girl he chooses to take. There is little you can do to become better acquainted with the boys. Just be natural and hope that the boys will like you well enough to seek further acquaintance.

FINGER NAILS

The finger nails do not need a great deal of attention, but they do need it very regularly. If you neglect them for a few months it will take more than a week of vigorous and conscience-stricken care to bring them back into good condition. Yet there is no other part of the body that responds so quickly as the finger nails to a little kindly treatment.

Regular care of the nails should include the following: filing into shape once a week with a long flexible steel file, and twice during the week a little shaping with a bit of emery board; a thorough polishing once a week, and every day a brisk rubbing with the polisher. This need not take more than 30 seconds for both hands, it is merely to stimulate the circulation around the nails. Once a week give them a thorough rubbing with cold cream, petroleum jelly or some form of oil. If the skin is dry and the nails themselves dry and brittle this should be done twice a week.

The cuticle around the nails is the greatest problem of all. Theoretically it should never be cut, it should be pushed back with an orangewood stick, but I have yet to find the hand where that is possible. The skin grows down over the hard part of the nail and there it clings and hardens, and the only way to take it off is to use the acid preparations that come for the purpose, or to scrape it off with powdered pumice (which dries the cuticle so I think it does more harm than good) or to soak it loose with warm soapy water and scrape it off with a cuticle knife. I don't think it matters much which method you use as long as you rub oil around the edges of the nail afterwards so this delicate skin does not become dry and horny.

If you give your finger nails this regular care they will always look young, and by their own good looks keep your hands looking young. It is a good plan when manicuring to massage the entire hand with oil.

Brownie:—Lines under the eyes in the case of a young person like yourself are not alarming, as they only show that you need to be built up. If you are below normal weight, drink a glass of milk with each meal, and take a pint of hot milk on retiring. If you are very much under weight, take cod liver oil during the cold months, and continue with the milk after that time.

They Need a Little Regular Care

Edna M.:—The hot treatment advised for dandruff was that of crude oil, to be massaged into the scalp the night before the regular shampoo. Any other oil will be helpful to a dry scalp. You can purchase crude oil either at a drug store, or at those places where paints and varnishes are sold.

Diseases traced to constipation are many—get permanent relief with Kellogg's Bran

Why does constipation breed other diseases? Because it floods your system with dangerous poisons. And the longer you suffer, the more poisons accumulate. That is why constipation should be relieved at once.

Doctors recommend Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. They know it brings results because it is ALL bran. And only ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective in relieving constipation.

ALL bran—Kellogg's—sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It acts as nature acts. It makes the intestine function naturally and regularly. If eaten regularly, it will bring permanent relief in the most chronic cases of constipation—is guaranteed to do so or your grocer returns your money.

Eat at least two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. You will like the wonderful Kellogg's flavor—so crisp and nut-like—so different from ordinary bran, which are most unpalatable.

Eat Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. And by all means try it in the recipes given on every package.

Glendale Stands Third In Building For Month Of March, Pacific Southwest

Forty-five cities in the Pacific Southwest, including Los Angeles, reported building permits issued during the month of March, 1924, with a total estimated valuation of $28,993,425, as compared with a total of $33,983,442 for the same month in 1923. The loss of $4,990,017 was almost entirely in the city of Los Angeles. Forty-five cities outside Los Angeles reported a total for March, 1924, of $11,714,667, as compared with $11,787,355 for the same month a year ago.

For three months of 1924 the building permits issued in the cities of the Pacific Southwest, 44 reporting for January, 44 for February and 45 for March, show a gain of approximately three millions, compared with the first quarter of 1923. Following are the totals for the first three months of 1924 and 1923, including Los Angeles:

Month	No. Cities	1924	1923
January	46	$24,620,020	$20,170,363
February	44	26,726,580	23,148,191
March	45	28,993,425	33,983,442

Totals $80,340,025 $77,301,906

Long Beach leads the cities outside of Los Angeles with a gain of about $300,000 over March, 1923. Glendale is second, Pasadena third, Alhambra fourth and San Diego fifth. Of the 45 cities reporting for March, 1924, 20 show a loss compared with the same month last year. Outside Los Angeles the losses are a little more than offset by the gains.

CONSOLIDATION OF BOARDS IS NOT SUPPORTED

Outside Districts In Favor Of Junior High Schools, Conference Shows

ident, and H. W. Chase, members of the Glendale city board; Principal George U. Moyse, Vice-Principal A. L. Ferguson, President H. W. Varick, A. W. Tower and Dr. H. V. Brown, members of the High school board of trustees; C. W. Ingledue, Delos H. Smith and H. V. Henry of the Chamber of Commerce.

Reports Are Read

The report of the special committee of the Chamber of Commerce appointed by Cameron D. Thom, chairman of the educational committee, was read, and the report of Richardson D. White, strongly advocating consolidation of the elementary and High school boards.

It seemed to the delegates from the outlying districts that it was merely a matter for Glendale to decide, until informed by President Varick of the High school board that it was not a question of the High school board absorbing the Grammar school board, but rather vice versa. He pointed out that if consolidation were effected the city Board of Education would be the governing body and the High school board would pass out of existence. Therefore, he stated, the up-country people had everything to say in the matter. Principal George U. Moyse quoted law on this subject.

Outside Not Interested

Richardson D. White, city superintendent, spoke strongly at this time on consolidation, but failed to convince the delegates from the outlying districts that they would benefit by a consolidation. They replied to him that a proposition to consolidate, if fostered at this time would meet with absolutely no response in the three districts.

At this point Mr. Morgan of Tujunga called the attention of the delegates to the fact that in the resolution adopted at joint meeting last year there was nothing about consolidation, but merely the formation of a Junior High school district, and he offered the resolution again for adoption. The original resolution, as re-offered by Mr. Morgan, provided for the erection of three Junior High schools, one in the northern section of Glendale, one in the La Crescenta district and one in the Monte Vista district.

Oppose Resolution

Mr. White and Mr. Hibben opposed this resolution, stating that without consolidation, it was utterly hopeless to submit the proposition to the voters of Glendale. Some of the people were of the opinion that after the building had been erected, they stated, the districts might withdraw from the union high school district, to form a district of their own or annex to Los Angeles. The case of Eagle Rock was cited, but Mr. Morgan, in return, pointed out that when Eagle Rock withdrew from the union high school district they had nothing, not even a building to take. They had been paying for years and had nothing to show for it.

The up-country delegates maintained that if a Junior High was built in their districts, and they withdrew, they would still have to assume their share of the indebtedness of the buildings. To counter this, Mr. White stated that although this fact might be true, he did not believe they would be called upon to pay their pro rata share of the indebtedness on any buildings erected outside of their elementary districts in the Union districts. "In other words," he said, "you probably would assume the indebtedness on your own building, but I don't think you would on any buildings erected in Glendale while you were a part of the district."

Paying for Years

Principal George U. Moyse and A. W. Tower of the High school board both stated that it would be only fair on the part of those people in the outlying districts if they did withdraw and take their buildings with them. It was pointed out that the people in the outlying districts have been paying for years for the privilege of sending their children here, but have not received any of the benefits accruing from the erection of new plants, other than the educational facilities enjoyed. Their assets have not been tangible, said Mr. Tower. The High school board showed every disposition to treat the outlying districts with fairness.

The property question proved more of a stumbling block than the problem of consolidation and, after much discussion, the meeting finally adjourned to get the opinion of the county counsel regarding the disposition of buildings should any district or districts withdraw from the Union district, at a later date.

The meeting was productive of two definite results. It proved beyond doubt that the up-country people will not have consolidation unless it is proven to them that it will benefit them, and as they hold the whip-hand, it can be consummated only by their initiative for annexation or withdrawal; and it showed that they are in favor of the formation of a Junior High school district with the same limits as the present High school district.

The delegates from Tujunga, Monte Vista and La Crescenta were very fair in the matter, stating that they did not expect a building as large as those erected in Glendale, but did feel that consolidation was of no benefit whatsoever to them and, of course, while they looked at it in that light, the matter could not be considered.

Winning Booster Letters Will Be Told on Saturday

Judges in The Glendale Evening News' WHY I AM IN GLENDALE contest are expected to render their decision tomorrow. The judges are Peter Hanson, head of the realty board; T. W. Watson, head of the city's planning commission, and E. F. Sanders, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

"The committee is doing a lot of hard work to select the three prize winners," said Secretary Sanders today. "In fact, it will be an extremely hard job to pick the three best from among so many good letters. However, the process of elimination is about completed, and we expect to announce the winners tomorrow."

The winning letter writer will receive $25 in cash, the second best letter writer gets $15 and the third best $10.

Watch for the winning letters in The Glendale Evening News.

Thomas McCabe, 1321 South San Fernando road, was arraigned before Judge F. H. Lowe this morning on a charge of driving while intoxicated following his arrest by Motor Officer Kenneth Butler yesterday afternoon in front of the Pacific avenue school.

Nicholas Richard, in company with McCabe at the time, was fined $50 for drunkenness. Officer Butler, stationed at the Pacific avenue school, noticed the men go by the zone at a speed he estimated at twenty-five miles per hour. He signalled them to stop but they did not do so. He followed them up the street, and saw one of the men throw a bottle out of the car, he says. This was recovered and is being held as evidence. McCabe must furnish $300 cash or $600 property bail by 4 o'clock this afternoon or go to the county jail until Monday, when he has his preliminary hearing.

HARROWER GUEST AT CLUB DINNER

Jewel-Studded Emblem Is Given Glendale Scientist By Exchange Members

Dr. Henry R. Harrower, head of the Harrower Laboratories, Inc., was the guest of honor at a dinner that was tendered to him last night at the Egyptian Village on the eve of his departure for an extended visit to the scientific centers of Europe, when a number of striking tributes were paid to him by his fellow members of the Exchange Club. R. E. Spicer, president of the Harrower organization, was also one of the honor guests.

As a token of the esteem in which he is held by his associates in the club, Dr. Harrower was presented with the Exchange Club emblem, mounted with diamonds and sapphires, and a basket of beautiful flowers was also given to him as a gift for Mrs. Harrower.

Praises Harrower R. E. Johnson, president of the club, acted as toastmaster and spoke feelingly of the services that Dr. Harrower has rendered not only to the club itself but also to the civic development of Glendale, recounting many instances of actions performed by Dr. Harrower that are known only to a few but that show the calibre of the man.

The program, which was in charge of Captain D. Ripley Jackson, past president, was featured by the appearance of the Bigwood Twins, two female impersonators who had the fifty guests guessing from the time they appeared until they shed their wigs and dropped their voices down into their chests. The twins sang like women, danced toe dances and other kinds of steps, petted some of the more bashful members on their blushing foreheads, and roused the envy of those whom they ignored until the final laugh was turned on the petted ones with the disclosure of their identity.

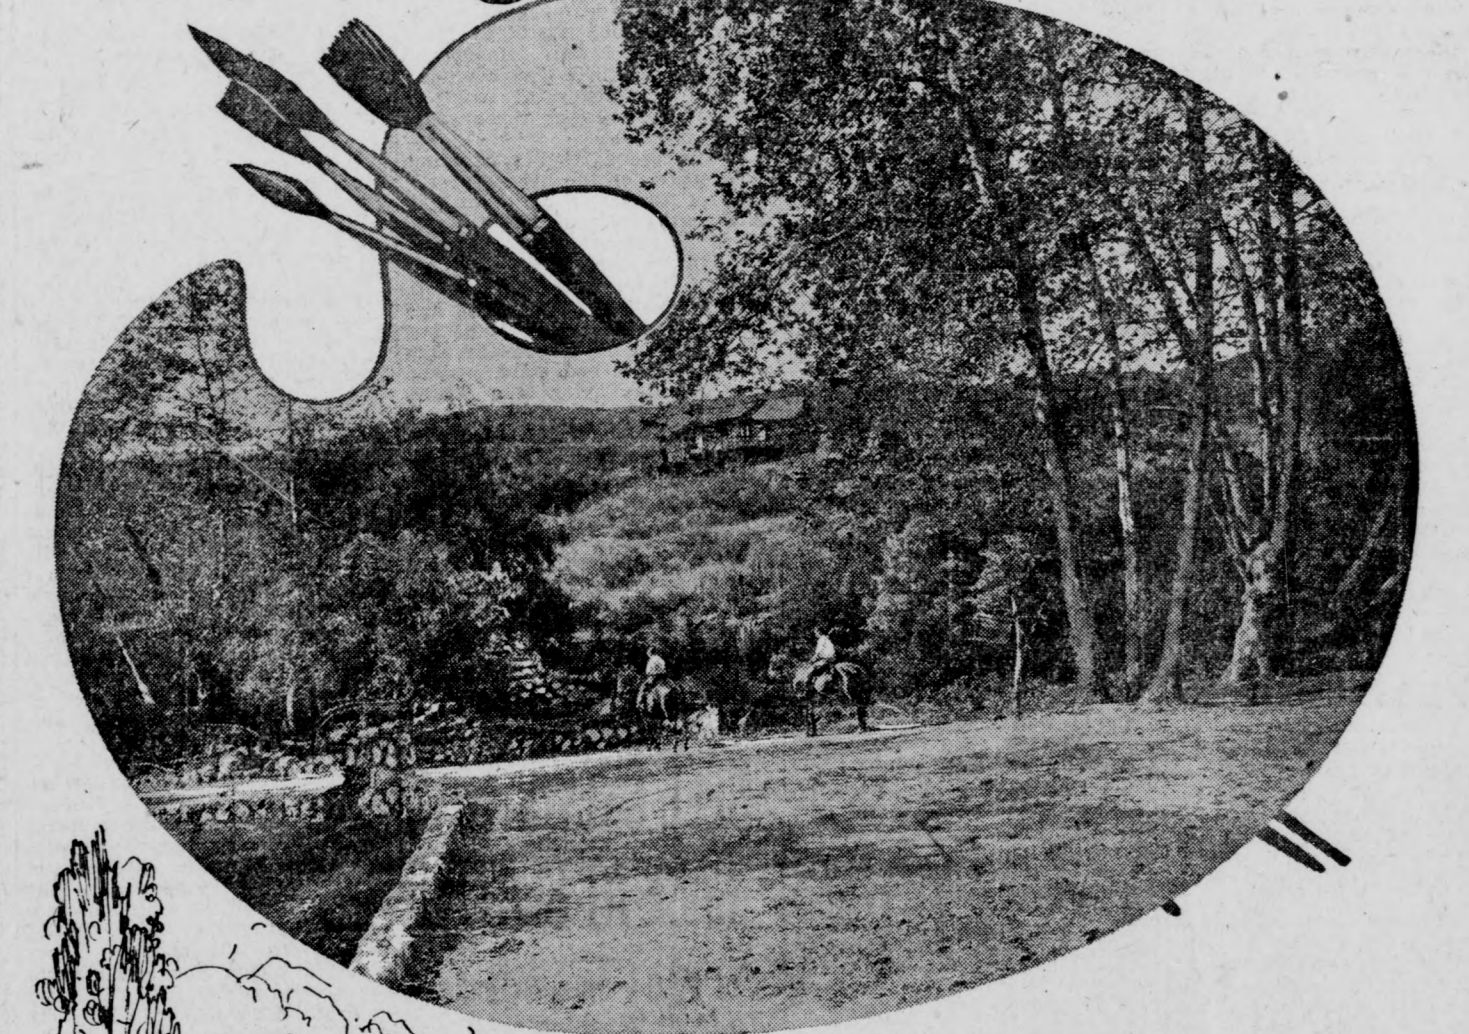

The Egyptian Village orchestra rendered a number of selections during the evening, and the club members sang "everything in the book," attracting the attention of all the other diners in the restaurant.

Dr. and Mrs. Harrower and their daughter, Verna, will sail for Europe on April 14 and will be absent from Glendale during the greater part of the summer.

Wallace W. Brown in Shooting Case Trial

The trial of Wallace W. Brown, of 721 West California street, charged with the shooting of J. M. Barnett of Los Angeles, last Thanksgiving, is scheduled for the superior court in Los Angeles today.

It is alleged that Brown fired the shot that wounded Barnett during an argument that followed the continued sounding of Barnett's automobile horn outside the Brown residence early in the morning.

Because it feeds on carrion and snakes, the East Indian stork called the adjutant, is protected by law.

FLOWERS BORDER STATE HIGHWAYS AFTER RAINFALL

Motorists to Travel Among Scenes of Beauty on Spring Journeys

Recent rains not only have brought cheer to ranchers, but have insured floral glories for the motoring public, according to the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California. This is the season of the year when Southern California orchards and hillside afford spectacles of remarkable beauty for the city dweller whose country life is confined to a weekly motor pilgrimage into the hills and valleys or to the seashore.

Almond, apricot and peach orchards are already in bloom in the San Fernando, Beaumont, Banning and Yucaipa valleys. Cherry blossom time is on its way in the Beaumont district, and the poppy, California's flaming state flower, can be found on many hillside, particularly in the Morena valley and in the Saugus district.

Deserts to Bloom
Within a few weeks the unique spectacle of the deserts in bloom may be seen in the regions of Hesperia, Victorville, Barstow, Palmdale and Mojave. While these sections are a trifle remote from the population centers, for a one day's drive, it is said that the spectacle presented is well worth the effort of the trip. It is only occasionally that the desert stretches are seen with their crowning glory of native wild flowers, and indications are that this spring will offer one of the most elaborate displays.

Detailed information regarding motor tours, whether they be for a day or a month may be had at the touring bureau of the auto club at Los Angeles headquarters, or any of its twenty-nine branches scattered throughout California.

BE WISE AND BE EARLY

DON'T SLAM

Don't slam all M. D.'s just because they are medical.
The best give the least medicine and take none.
Don't slam all surgeons just because some incompetent cut and then marked you "opened by mistake."

Don't slam all preachers just because some weakling doesn't practice what he preaches.

Don't slam all lawyers just because some of them are liars.

Don't slam all realtors just because some couldn't sleep in a round house.

Don't slam all politicians just because some of them are so oily.

Don't slam all doors just because some of them require an extra push.

But you may slam Chiropractic all you wish. Remember the brilliancy of the diamond results from push, pressure and polish.
